PEABODY HIGH SCHOOL
Peabody, Massachusetts

ALMA MATER

FOREWORD

Through four long, fruitful years we have lived together, worked together, and played together, but now the time has come when the highway of our school life separates into many long, tortuous and diverse roads. Although the future is uncertain, we confidently make plans for many years to come and we trust to God that He will guide us safely along whatever path our steps may take.

As we journey on our way through life may this META ever be a constant source of enjoyment and comfort. All that is written therein shall bring back, in memory at least, a time of joyful remembrance.

Thus as we leave dear Peabody High School with heads held high and eyes on distant stars, our hearts linger briefly at the doorway between youth and maturity. May all our fondest hopes be realized in the days and years that lie ahead.

In Memoriam

OUR FACULTY

As we leave the familiar corridors of Peabody High School it is natural that we think of the happy days we have spent here, of the friends, our classmates, who will leave to face the world with us. But it seems, too, that we ought to think of our other friends, our teachers, who will remain to guide the faltering footsteps of those who will follow us in succeeding classes.

How patient they must have been to be able to tolerate our moods of depression, our days of impetuous whims! We are truly grateful to them for their patience and their wisdom which have been an inspiration to all of us.

To the members of our faculty we say a hearty "thank you" for all they have done for us during these four happy years.

Wright, A. Sullivan, S. Scholnick, C. Bernstein.

DRAMATIC GUILD

During our four year stay in high school the Dramatic Guild proved to be by far the most popular of our out-of-school activities. Many of the members of '51 were active in the organization from Freshman year to Senior, and as we leave our high school days behind we shall have many happy memories of the enjoyable hours we spent in getting ready for the various productions in which we participated.

To Mr. D. Edward Gorman, our very popular and talented director, we of '51 owe a sincere debt of gratitude for his interest in us as a group and as individuals, for his skill and his patience in directing the stage productions of the Guild.

CAST OF "CALLING ALL GHOSTS"

It was on December 1, 1950 that the Dramatic Guild staged the thrilling and mysterious play "Calling All Ghosts." This title aptly suggests the events of the play, and all doubts the audience might have had about the existence of ghosts were dispelled as ghost after ghost appeared to keep the audience in a state of constant suspense.

The plot revolves around a 21 year old girl, Marian Van Arsdale, who has just inherited a mansion from her uncle. She is in love with a rather self-centered mystery writer, Bob Trent. He will never admit he is wrong and this starts a series of events that keep the audience laughing but perplexed until the end when all is explained. Marian, of course, marries Bob, and he admits that it is possible for him to be wrong once in a while.

The cast was as follows:

Marian Van Arsdale	Jane Freitas '51
Bob Trent	Ray Durkee '51
Helen Van Arsdale	Ann Sullivan '51
Susan	Phyllis Gretchenuk '51
Lily Ford	Eunice Singerman '52

George Packard	Arthur McCarthy '52
Dr. Bromwell Brass	Marvin Clopper '51
Marjorie Clark	Ivornia Chulyk '51
Veiled Woman	Thelma Bazer '51
Lady Intruder	Bebe Karelitz '54
Gentleman Intruder	Nathan Tanzer '51
Grumpy	Peter Feldman '52

Mr. Gorman, the popular and capable adviser of our Dramatic Guild, did his customary excellent work as director of the play, and to him the members of the Guild extend their sincere thanks.

The assistant director was Anastasia Tilas, '51; the prompters were Evelyn Chipman and Ruth Shmase, '52; the stage manager was Philip Quint, '51; the assistant stage managers were Adeena Anasoulis, Helen Campbell and Peggy Wright, '51; the sound and lights were by James La Pointe, '52 and Leonard Rosenfield, '51.

"Calling All Ghosts" will be, indeed, one of our very happy memories of high school days.

CAST OF "EVERYBODY'S CRAZY"

May 11, 1951

Calling Dr. In Sane !!!

Calling Dr. Cray Zee !!!

At the conclusion of the Spring play of the Peabody High School Dramatic Guild, "Everybody's Crazy", the cast was truly in need of a good psychiatrist. The hectic, side-splitting production directed by our talented and very capable adviser, Mr. D. Edward Gorman, was heartily enjoyed by the entire audience.

The plot revolves around the three owners of a hotel. Rumors that hidden treasure may be buried on the premises bring to the hotel a host of curious and eccentric guests all of whom hope to make their fortune by recovering the treasure. After many flirtatious and fantastic antics of the three owners, it is revealed that the former landlord and his wife have conspired to cheat the co-owners out of their money. The three partners find the money, and, as in all comedies, "they lived happily ever after."

Included in the cast were:

Class of '51—Elaine Assiminas, Helen Campbell, Claire Bernstein, Marvin Clopper, Raymond Durkee, Philip Quint, Leonard Rosenfield, Sylvia Scholnick, Nathan Tanzer, Francis Towey, Anastasia Tilas, and Peggy Wright.

Class of '52—Eunice Singerman, Arthur McCarthy.

Class of '54—Frederick Gibbons.

Ablly assisting Mr. Gorman were: Assistant Director, Ivernia Chulyk, '51; Stage Manager, Scott Johansen, '51; Assistant Stage Manager, George Lawrence, '51; Prompters, Toy Lin Chin, '51 and Selma Erlich, '52.

Alumni of 1951 Hold Reunion!

The class of '51 arrived in full force yesterday to hold their first reunion in ten years. They landed at Mercer's Field in the latest 1961 super atomic rocket ships!

They were greeted by such city dignitaries as Mayor Francis Towey, City Clerk George Feeney, Jr., Police Commissioner Bertha Wansley, and Fire Commissioner William Hosman.

After being led by Principal Gertrude Cares on an inspection tour of the new George Herbert Palmer High School, which extends from the site of the former Violet's Cafeteria to Tremont Street, they enjoyed a buffet lunch at the new school cafeteria with the following department heads: English, Chester Bitchell; Foreign Languages, Scott Johansen; Mathematics, Richard Durgin; Science, Mary Jane Quirk; History, Frank Morgan; Commercial Studies, Joanne Lawrence; Art, Leo Almeida; Physical Education, Helen O'Connor and George Lawrence; and Music, Thelma Bazer.

This modernistic school was designed by Gerald Carey and built by the Delivorias Construction Company. It contains ten separate buildings, each housing a different department of the school curriculum. Also a gymnasium with a gigantic indoor swimming pool, tennis courts, bowling alleys, and roller skating rink. The group was told by Janitor, Thomas Perehoduk, that the D. Edward Gorman Theater was closed for the day because of preparations being made for the play which would be presented that evening in honor of the returning graduates.

Following the lunch the visitors returned to the heart of our thriving metropolis where they were welcomed by Manager Chris Kalivas of Gerakaris Hotel. They retired to their suites to prepare for the gala festivities of the evening.

High Notes In The News

At the luxurious Popaslop Mansion, yesterday, an outdoor tea was given by the rich, young, socialite, Miss Adeena Anasoulis, in honor of her cousin, Miss Sophie Anasoulis who is soon leaving for a lion hunt in Africa with her world-famous explorer-husband, William Bona.

The Jellyfish Theater will be honored tonight as the famous Hollywood actress Eleanor Aronson returns to her home town to give a benefit performance in the play, "The Rose and The Tulip Blossom."

The proceeds from the play will go to the Society for the Prevention of Homework, which is headed by the well-known citizen Robert Bonnell.

The first meeting of the Illiterate Literary Society was held at the home of the latest patron of the Arts, Miss Barbara Isles. Among the famous people present was the author of the best seller "SOUTH-EAST OUTLET", Mr. Francis McManus, Jr. The guest speaker was the nationally known book reviewer, Miss Mary Jameson, who spoke on the book "MOTHER'S BIG EXPENDITURE", written by the well known author, Miss Beverly Kimball.

The meeting concluded with a tea served by head maid, Helen Kopanelie, who is a graduate of North Slobovia's School for Butlers and Maids.

The beautiful, young debutante, Miss Katherine O'Neil, has left for a trip to Paris where she will be the commentator for a fashion show which will feature the latest creations of designer, Miss Elaine Assiminas.

At the annual Senior Festival of Scrambled Egg University, the May Queen was chosen from a group of 100 beautiful girls. The lucky winner this year was the debutante, Miss Sylvia Forbes.

It has been announced that a former Peabodyite is a member of the noted precision dancing group, "The Rocketts", in Rockefeller Center, New York City. This talented girl is Miss Florence Tankevitch.

Yesterday afternoon, a bridal shower was given by socially prominent, Miss Edith Delp for Miss Claire Mello, who is soon to wed famous chemist Mr. Robert Mentus.

Queer Accidents

Continuing its custom of printing the most unusual accidents of the past year, the Mirage today presents a record of those in 1961. Some will seem incredible.

The dubious distinction of shooting himself with his own pants goes to Charlie Tracchia. Mr. Tracchia, in disrobing for the night, flung his pants at a chair, but instead of hitting the chair, the trousers came in contact with a .22 caliber rifle hanging on the wall, knocking it to the floor. The rifle went off, depositing a bullet in Mr. Tracchia's arm. He was rushed by his landlady, Dot Soboczinski, to the hospital but was not seriously injured.

In Iceberg, South Carolina, Miss Ann Sullivan was embarrassed by the following incident. While in the city she walked smack into the rear of a parked car and was hauled into the police court on a charge of "reckless walking".

A Pennsylvania man, Spike Vassilios, strolling with his wife, Elsie Thacher, glanced momentarily into a shop window. When he turned his head his wife had vanished into thin air. Yes, you guessed it. She had stepped into an open manhole.

A California woman, Claire Thibedeau, couldn't understand why two workmen coming toward her along the street kept exactly 10 feet apart—until she walked head-on into the large sheet of plate glass they were carrying between them.

When a caterpillar tractor passed completely over a woman, Clara Thibedeau, who was working in a field, horrified onlookers rushed forward to shovel up the flattened remains. Instead, she got up from the soft earth into which she had been pressed, little the worse for her experience.

A policeman's wife, Catherine Thorpe, broke her husband's leg demonstrating the ju jitsu he had taught her, before an appreciative audience of women.

A baby fell out of a second story window into the arms of a messenger boy, who at once rang the bell and delivered the surprise package to the maid, Mary Thorpe.

Hearing a noise in the night, a Nevada dude ranch guest, Stasia Tilas, grabbed the gun beside her bed and shot into the darkness. She had shot her own big toe!

Fiction Column

Twice upon a time, there was in Hydrophobia, a beautiful princess, Joan La-Belle, who lived with her only companion the lady-in-waiting, Anthe Papandreu, in an elaborate castle on a big mountain. She and another princess, Carol Legro, who lived with a visiting queen, Sophie Pavlo in a crumby castle in a big swamp, were both in love with the same rich prince, Leonard Rosenfield.

Deep in the forest there lived a soothsayer, Margie Perkins, who had put a curse on this prince when he was but a little boy. The malediction was that if at any time two girls were in love with him at the same time he would immediately change into a wise old owl.

The princesses decided to go to the prince and ask him which one he really loved. So one day they went to his castle. On the first greeting the curse came true and the prince was changed into a fuchsia owl that flew out the window.

The distraught princesses decided to go in search of him, one going to the east, the other to the west.

The first princess took the eastern route and after a few days journey she met a wood cutter, Francis Roy, who lived with his wife, Astrid McDonald, in a small hut by the side of the road. The princess asked the woodcutter if he had seen the fuchsia owl and he said it had flown toward the next city. Reaching the city, the princess went to an inn. The inn-keeper, Joe Russell, had gone to visit a friend, John Sdoucos, in South Pepperbox and left the inn in charge of his cousins, Phyllis Medina and Dotty Quint. When asked of the owl, they said he had flown over the mountains.

The second princess took the western route and after traveling a while found she had lost her way. She asked a milkmaid, Mary Mello, if she had seen a fuchsia owl but the girl replied "No". Then she came to two women, Betty Moore and Helen Rennick, picking flowers. When asked the same question they also replied in the negative. The Princess trudged onward until she met a farmer, John Sinkevitch and his wife, Ethelwyn Morrison who were tilling the field. The princess asked them about the owl and they said he had gone east. So she followed their directions until she came to a wide river. The only way she could cross was in a boat owned by fishermen, Costa Spyropoulos and Bernard Sullivan, who were busily mending their nets. On the other side of the river she met two mountain climbers, Marie Mullarky and Winnie O'Keefe, and they took her over the mountains where she met the first princess. They traveled together until they met a hunter, Frank Tambini. In his hand he held a smoking rifle and on the ground lay the fuchsia owl. Filled with compassion, the first princess, with tears in her eyes, ran over and kissed the owl. In a blinding light, the owl changed back to his original form and since the first princess showed her true love, they traveled to a nearby hut of a Lady Justice of the Peace, Jeanette O'Neil and were married. The second princess traveled back to the inn where she met a traveler, Nathan Tanzer, with whom she immediately fell in love and married. Naturally all lived happily ever after.

Lovelorn Column

by Miss Marie "Hook 'em Young" Cunha

Dear Miss Hook 'Em Young,

My best girlfriend gave me a black eye and since then I have been in a dilemma. Should I charge her for the beef-steak I put on the eye, or should I pay for it myself?

Signed,

Ronald Kachinski

MOSTLY INFORMAL

Dear Mr. K.,

My advice is to buy frankfurts; they're cheaper.

Dear Miss Hook 'Em Young,

Last week my boy friend flew to California and I'd like to know if it's true that there is a sand shortage in the Sahara Desert?

Signed,
Virginia Currier

Dear Miss C.,

My advice to you is to visit the nearest psychiatrist immediately.

I am a beautiful, tall, blonde debutante, 21 years old, and looking for a short fat, homely man to take my mother dancing while I have a date with my boyfriend, Herman. Please call Miss Phyllis Cronin, Peabody 13579.

Critic's Corner

Last evening I attended the presentation of "Nothing's Noisy on the Eastern Back", which was presented at the D. Edward Gorman Theater in the High School.

As the curtain opened, the heroine, Carol Albee, reclining in her luxurious drawing room was disturbed by her butler who announced the arrival of John Arnoldy, who in reality was her secret lover. After they had finished their evening meal, her husband, Joe Baptista, enters and a tense and dramatic moment follows. The plot becomes complicated until finally "true love wins out".

The supporting role of the butler was played very well by the newly discovered young actor Gabriel Bettencourt.

I enjoyed the play very much and would like to commend the Director, Ronald Bolduc, for this fine production.

So until next week when I review another play this is your favorite Drama Critic, Josephine Amor.

On Saturday the opera critic for this paper attended the opening of the opera "Madam Moth", presented by the Ham-mypolitan Opera Company. This opera tells, in song, the story of a young Chinese girl, Misue, played by the outstanding singer Jean Gilligan, who falls in love with a Siamese boy, Hecan, portrayed by baritone Robert McLaughlin. The lovers wish to marry but are stopped by Misue's mother, a part filled admirably by contralto Doris Goddess, who sends Misue away and has Hecan killed. The opera ends with the sad but lovely aria "Sob Your Eyes Out" which is sung by Misue when she returns to find her Hecan dead.

The opera was touching, heart-rending, and beautiful and the orchestra, under the direction of the young pianist and leader Phyllis Gretchenuk, did a superb job.

Your reporter, Viola Hilik, enjoyed this opera tremendously and recommends it to all music lovers.

CLASS DIARY

Our three years of high school life have flown by and we are now on the threshold of a new adventure — life as a Senior! We have made many friends and met wonderful teachers. These years will never be forgotten and especially the one beginning on September 6—Our first day of school as the "big wheels"! Old faces were cheerily welcomed back and a few new ones were soon made part of the crowd. The air was filled with anticipation for the days to come. This was one event from which no one came away empty-handed, for our arms were loaded with books!

September 19—We went to the polls today to vote for our class officers and representatives for the final year. Officers elected were: President, Jimmie O'Keefe; Vice-President, Helen O'Connor; Treasurer, John Sdoucos; Secretary, Sylvia Forbes. Home room representatives: 101, Jack Arnoldy; 102, Ray Durkee; 103,

OUR JUNIOR BALL

Ray Jacques; 104, Dotty Quint; 105, Stasia Tilas.

October 11—After the hay had been swept from the floor and the corn stalks piled up in the corners, the auditorium was miraculously transformed into a barn for the Senior Barn Dance. If the rest of the socials and dances prove to be as successful as this one was, we can look forward to a great senior year!

October 16—Mr. Mills, of Salem, presented to all classes a new and interesting program, that of Junior Achievement. Many of the Peabody High School students responded to his invitation to join these groups and are now on their way to being the business men and women of the future.

October 18—Many of us seriously began to think of attending college in the future as we saw the Boston University movie, "Carcers in the Making."

October 24—"Safety First" was the motto for the day as Inspector Murphy from the Registry of Motor Vehicles and Patrolman Meaney of the Peabody police force told of the need of safe driving and the dangers of carelessness. Inspector Murphy proved his point by a very interesting movie.

October 25—Loud cheers rent the air as the cheerleaders led the student body in a pre-Revere game rally. Throats became hoarse as the classes competed to see who could yell the loudest.

October 26 - 30 - 31—Bi-monthlies. What can be said about them except that they are a necessary (say the teachers) evil (say we)!

October 31—The auditorium was gaily decorated and the records piled high as the attractive cheerleaders presented their Record Hop.

November 3—Yea team! The cheerleaders led the student body in our pre-Salem game rally. The three coaches, Bezemes, Donahue and Riordan, and co-captains Ronnie Kachinski and Paul Comeau added enthusiasm by their pep talks. The cheering really worked as the team went on to defeat Salem, our chief rival.

November 9—"Will we really be wearing those some day?" "Don't you like that style better?" These were some of the many remarks that passed through the auditorium as the cap and gown representative showed us many different styles and colors.

November 9—The Civics Club presented Mr. William Hemeon as their first assembly speaker of the year. Mr. Hemeon, a cartoonist from the Disney studios drew many amusing pictures for us.

November 15—Mr. Barry spoke to us today about our plans for the future. We had to stop and think for a while that we would no longer be living the same life that we had been following for the past twelve years.

November 16—Long faces again! Report cards!

November 22—The Observer for the '50-'51 season promised to be a successful magazine as the staff presented their annual assembly. Francis Towey, the Circulation Manager, acted as Master of Ceremonies as he introduced the rest of the staff and the speakers. Our three co-editors, Phyllis Gretchenuk, Sylvia Scholnick and Walter Lazdowski were represented by Phyllis who addressed the assembly. Leonard Rosenfield as Business Manager and Francis Towey also spoke to the students to encourage subscription. Entertainment was provided by dancer Harriet Gibley and soloist Harry Houlden who were accompanied by Carol Bishop.

November 28—Jeepers! Graduation's coming closer. Today we were measured for those caps and gowns!

December 1—An eerie feeling filled the air as the Dramatic Guild presented "Calling All Ghosts", a play filled with suspense until the final curtain. The actors and actresses worked hard to make the performance a great success. The Dramatic Guild, with its outstanding performances, has added much to remember during our four year stay here.

December 15—The weather certainly didn't show that winter was near, but Seniors galore attended that attractively decorated ballroom at the High School. A feeling of festivity invaded the air at the Christmas Ball. Queen Dorothy Soboczinski and King Nicholas Gianarelis presided over the affair. Thanks to our hard-working officers, representatives and committees for their work in planning the dance.

December 20—Santa Claus, in the person of Mr. Thomas McCarthy, came to town and distributed his gifts freely among the first grade pupils of the Brown School and the children of the faculty. Thanks to the Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Grace Lawless, who presented a medley of Christmas carols for our entertainment. The assembly marked the beginning of our long-awaited Christmas vacation.

January 2—It happens every time! School began again!

January 4, 5—Nothing hurt after all! Students and teachers alike benefited from the X-ray program given throughout the city.

January 12—Congratulations to Ray Durkee for being elected the Good Government Day representative from Peabody High School.

January 16, 18—Only one good thing about these dates they proved that half a year was past! It seems strange that Mid-Year exams aren't loved more!

January 22—The Civics Club presented their second in a series of assemblies. Simeon Nutchuk, an Eskimo lecturer and pianist, thrilled all with his adventure stories and piano compositions.

January 24—Mr. Thomas Cyr's presented a movie on the fight against polio and the excellent work being done at Camp Sea Haven. Movies such as this one really showed us the need of care for polio victims.

February 1—Congratulations to Sylvia Forbes who was awarded by her classmates the honor of being the D. A. R. representative from Peabody High School.

February 5—Not those things again! Report cards!

February 13—Another excellent Civics Club Assembly. Lt. James Whitaker, author of the book, "We Thought We Heard the Angels Sing," gave one of the most outstanding and stirring talks that have ever been presented in our high school.

February 21—The annual February Assembly in honor of three great Americans took place. Marvin Clopper, as Master of Ceremonies, introduced Peggy Wright, Ivernia Chulyk and Leonard Rosenfield who spoke of Abraham Lincoln, George Washington and George Peabody. Francis Towey delivered a speech on "The Constitution, Our Heritage." Music was provided by violinist Thelma Levin and clarinetist Peter Feldman, accompanied by Carol Bishop, and soloist David Price, accompanied by Miss Lawless. The closing remarks by the Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Mr. J. Henry Higgins, were followed by the recessional march played by the High School Orchestra. The program was directed by Mr. D. Edward Gorman.

February 21—"If you haven't had your graduation pictures taken, today will be the last day," was what the notice said. The camera hasn't broken yet!

Feb. 24-Mar. 4—Vacation time again!

March 26—We began our weekly trips to the auditorium to practice for graduation music. That was music?

April 5, 6—Our star-studded Revue cast deserves a lot of applause for its wonderful performance. Over 200 students acted, danced, and sang before a full house both nights. Congratulations to all for the time and effort put into the "Sitty Slickers" to make it a success! And again, many thanks to our director, Mrs. Ruth Conley.

April 18—Smile purty for the birdy, now! Many pictures were taken so that we can see ourselves in our various activities in the year book.

April 18—Spring was gaily welcomed back by the "Senior Spring Session." With Glenn Alan's orchestra providing the music, everyone had a wonderful time.

April 23—Report cards. Oh well, we'll only have to suffer one more!

April 26—The long-awaited day! Hearts beat a little faster as Mr. Barry announced the honor students of 1951. Congratulations to Marvin Clopper, who was chosen to be valedictorian; Leonard Rosenfield, salutatorian; Gertrude Cares, first speaker; Elsie Thacher, second speaker; the four other honor students, Frances Blake, Jane Freitas, Diane Gibley and Norma

CHEER LEADERS' DANCE

Scarnegie. Honorable mention was awarded to: Joan Beres, Patricia Collins, Phyllis Gretchenuk, Viola Hilik, Christ Kalivas, Elizabeth Moore, Marjorie Perkins, Philip Quint, Ann Seaberg, Francis Towey, Bertha Wansley and June Welch.

April 26 The Civics Club presented Marshall and Bettymarie Grisham, their talented pianist and accompanist and their small son, singing and playing songs old and new. The Civics Club deserves a great deal of praise for the excellent contribution they have made toward making our stay at P. H. S. more interesting.

May 11—Everybody's Crazy! That was the name of the highly amusing Dramatic Guild play. Once again, the cast performed like seasoned troupers as they presented their final play of the year. Hats off to the Dramatic Guild for their wonderful work!

May 25—The Seniors bid farewell as they leave the school at the last informal dance of the year, the Farewell Dance. Who knows what may happen to each of the members of the class of 1951 as they say goodbye to Peabody High School.

June 1 School's out! Our four short high school years have finally come to an end! We will miss all those after-school activities, but there are very few seniors who will miss all those classes and homework! All in all, the years have been lots of fun.

June 6—The year is quickly coming to an end. Our banquet with all its festivity has come and gone. We can never forget it and all that it means to us.

June 10 Well, we finally made it! Who would have thought four years ago that we would in such a short time make that long walk across the stage to get that coveted diploma! Our speakers were excellent; the music was good; that final handshake even better! Graduation will be one of the outstanding events in our lives.

June 12—The last time that the seniors could gather together as the graduating class of '51 from Peabody High School was the Senior reception. Everyone was a little sad at the thought of leaving but the glorious time of being in high school with its socials, dances, trips, sports, assemblies and classes will long remain in the hearts of all of us.

FOOTBALL

Although our football team, directed by our new and popular coach, John Bezemes, was far from the best in this area, the team did exhibit some excellent football during the course of the season in spite of the fact that only a single game was won.

The team found the tackling and blocking of their opponents much harder and more deadly than their own and were thus unable to pile up many touchdowns without which no team can expect to win too many games. It was a lack of a scoring punch that forced the Tanners into the defeat column so frequently.

Our footballers played well enough to win against Lynn Classical, Revere, Beverly and Salem although the Salem game proved to be the single win for the season. But then, Salem is the game we always want to win.

Several of the boys received recognition for their football prowess at season's end with Ken Mercer being selected as a member of the Item All-Stars. Co-Captain Ronny Kachinski was selected to play for the North Shore All-Stars in the annual game with the South Shore All-Stars.

HOCKEY

This year's edition of hockey at Peabody kept pace with the previous teams by keeping in the running for the championship right up to the final game of the season. The nucleus of the squad came down with a severe attack of the "flu" at one stage of the season, handicapping the team in several of its important games.

The Tanners dropped their opener against Lynn Classical, but came right back to romp over Saugus, tie Revere, beat Marblehead, lose to Swampscott, and then rack up victories over Lynn English, Salem, Amesbury, Danvers and Beverly. In the finale they dropped a 4 to 2 decision to the "Fishermen" from Gloucester.

The only consolation the Tanners carried out of the season was the fact that Capt. Ray Jacques ended the season as the league's highest scorer, finishing the schedule with a total of twenty points. Jacques was the inspiration and guidance of the team as he not only was the highest scorer but he showed excellent team spirit as is shown by the number of assists that he scored, an even ten.

Hardly to be forgotten is the excellent play of Bobby Grayton. He was chosen as the league's outstanding goalie, a very deserving choice since Grayton was spectacular in every game. He showed tremendous poise and carriage through most of the harder games.

Those seniors who will be missed by Coach Charlie Carlin next fall are: Capt. Ray Jacques, Ray Durkee, Leo Kravchuk, Charles Tracchia, Robert Marshall, Gerald Donovan, and Daniel Donahue.

BASKETBALL

For the first time in several years at Peabody High, a local basketball team has been in the running for a championship. These were the early season expectations but somehow we proved to be a little too optimistic. The team came through with a record of five wins against nine losses which is not a bad record but certainly not of the calibre to win a championship. Coach Charlie Cook tried all manners of combinations in an effort to get a few more wins out of his local charges.

Coach Cook was given the opportunity to build his team around the league's highest scorer in the person of Steve Sarowsky who won the scoring derby with a total of 250 points. An interesting note about Sarowsky is that he still has another year of basketball ahead of him at P. H. S.

It was the spirited and aggressive play of Capt. Bobby Johnson which kept the team on the move in their losing ball games and pushed them when they were in the process of chalking up a victory. The constantly improving play of lanky Chet Bitchell was certainly the nearest highlight of the season to the scoring of Sarowsky.

The members of Coach Cook's team who will not return next year are: Capt. Bobby Johnson, and Chet Bitchell.

BASEBALL

Since the baseball season is barely underway as this is being written we can hardly foresee the degree of success which our diamond stars will meet this year. This year's team, however, is considered along with Lynn Classical, Haverhill and Gloucester as the only teams capable of winning the championship of the Essex County League.

As we go to press, the team, under the direction of Coach John Bezemes, has wins over Salem and Beverly, but has suffered losses at the hands of Lynn Classical and Haverhill. The two losses proved to be heart-breakers for Ray Jacques and Steve Sarowsky. Steve lost to Lynn Classical as a result of five costly errors by his supporting cast. In the Haverhill game, Jacques took the mound in the third inning to hold the Hillies to one hit, that coming in the last half of the ninth inning when Haverhill pulled the game out of the fire after the Tan-ners had come from behind to tie the score.

TRACK

At the time of this writing the track season is just getting under way under the direction of our new coach, Mr. Thomas McCarthy. Mr. McCarthy has taken over his new duties with an enthusiasm which augurs well for the success of his charges, for he has instilled a new spirit into the boys who are daily working out on the cinder track at the rear of the school.

The bulk of the points to be made this season are expected to come from the feet of our own fleet Ken Mercer who has been running this past winter in many of the indoor meets and incidentally capturing his share of points.

Another member of '51 who will undoubtedly add many points to our totals this year is Captain Scott Johansen who is rapidly developing into a capable shot-putter. Peter Delivorias is a third member of our class who is expected to contribute his share of points in our bid for recognition on the cinder path.

GOLF

As the golf season is hardly underway any report on our team for the current season must be made on a purely speculative basis. With only four contests in the records at the present time we can only express the hope that the team under the guidance of Coach James Foley will find itself in the remaining games and go on to a moderately successful season.

Representing Peabody on the links for Peabody were: Captain Harold Jean, Richard Buckley and George Feeney from the Class of '51.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM, 1950-1951

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

This year the girls' athletic program has been as full and varied as in other years. Most of the seniors of 1951 who have participated in varsity basketball are proud to boast of having played with a championship team two out of their four years here at P. H. S. The girls ended their 1951 campaign with only one defeat.

The Apparatus Club has become a physical outlet for all of our girls in that it provides an opportunity to many who would not take part in basketball.

The following are senior girls who participated in the Apparatus Club: Joan Ganey, Adeena Anasoulis, Helen Campbell, Phyllis Gretchenuk, Marie Mullarkey, Sophie Anasoulis, Ann Sullivan, Helen Venios, Joan LaBelle, Kathryn O'Neil, Barbara Isles, Toy Lin Chin, Frances Blake, Clara Thibedeau, and Helen O'Connor.

Varsity Basketball Scores:

First Team

Peabody 42—Saugus 13
Peabody 36—Somerville 35
Peabody 10—Beverly 37
Peabody 26—Beverly 22

Second Team

Peabody 29—Somerville 3
Peabody 38—Beverly 29
Peabody 29—Beverly 20

The first team captain was Frances Blake of the Senior Class. The second team was captained by Barbara Crean of the Junior Class.

The first team was made up of the following:

Forwards: F. Blake, H. Campbell, H. Venios, B. Crean (alternate).

Guards: H. O'Connor, J. Ganey, E. French.

Many thanks go to our manager Phyllis Gretchenuck who tried to arrange a good schedule for us, but there was considerable difficulty in getting suitable dates with some of the nearby schools.

A hearty thanks to Miss McNamara for all she did for us in the years we spent under her guidance.

IN APPRECIATION

The last pages of the book of our school days have been turned, and now the book is closed. The realities of those days are gone, never to be relived, but not so our memories of them. Now, as we are leaving our school home for the past four years and stepping out into the unknown, it seems only fitting and proper that, before we set forth, we should in some small way express our gratitude to our many friends who have helped us along the way.

TO MISS MARY LUZ and MR. ARTHUR JOHNSON who so graciously and generously gave of their time to act as Senior Class Advisers we extend our sincere thanks. To MRS. RUTH CONLEY we can only say, "Thanks a million" for her patience and skill in directing and staging so successfully our Revue. To MRS. EVA HAINES we shall ever be indebted for her generous contribution of time and artistic talent to our META and to the many social activities of our class.

Last, but by no means least, we acknowledge with heartfelt gratitude the untiring efforts of our home room and subject teachers who through four long years have done their utmost to prepare us for the happy and useful lives we hope to lead. As we bid farewell to Peabody High School we express our sincere gratitude to our principal, MR. ARTHUR J. BARRY, to the entire school faculty, and to all who have helped to make the last four years the happiest years of our lives.

AFTERWORD

Four years have passed since first we entered Peabody High School, happy and profitable years that we shall not soon forget. In these pages we have tried to keep alive the memories of those years, the memories of our friends and classmates.

As the vision of our Alma Mater fades away and our footsteps re-echo softly and then are heard no more, let the flame of these memories burn brightly within us always.
